From December 3rd to the 6th youths from across the globe will participate in a first-of-its-kind global forum to develop recommendations that will address five pressing issues which include: Staying Healthy; Comprehensive Education; Fully Inclusive CIVIC participation; Families, youth-rights and well-being including sexuality and Transitions to decent employment for youth.

Today marks day two of the International Conference and Population Development Global Youth forum Beyond 2014 where, over 900 youth leaders will have an unprecedented opportunity to influence global policy. Representing the 43% of the world's population under age 25, they are today convening in Bali Indonesia to develop official recommendations for the United Nations development agenda. During the forum Belize is being represented by Corozal resident, Nancy Leiva-President of the GOJoven Alumni Association.

Recommendations from the Global Youth Forum will be presented by the Secretary-General of the United Nations Ban Ki-moon to the General Assembly. ICPD Beyond 2014 Review will have a profound influence on future policies at a national, regional and global level, keeping human rights at the heart of the development. Note that the 900 youth who travelled to Bali Indonesia will not be the only ones contributing to the policy. Around the world, youth leaders will connect locally and electronically to provide a shared response to the social, economic and human rights challenges and opportunities faced by their generation.
